-- The MAILING DATE of this communication appears on the cover sheet with the correspondence address --

Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If the period for reply specified above is less than thirty (30) days, a reply within the statutory minimum of thirty (30) days will be considered timely.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

Status

- 1) ☐ Responsive to communication(s) filed on ____.
- 2a) ☐ This action is FINAL. 2b) ☒ This action is non-final.
- 3) ☐ Since this application is in condition for allowance except for formal matters, prosecution as to the merits is closed in accordance with the practice under Ex parte Quayle, 1935 C.D. 11, 453 O.G. 213.

DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1,2,5-8,11 and 12 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Yamagishi et al. (6,318,140). Yamagishi discloses a peripheral length adjusting apparatus for an endless metallic ring comprising a peripheral length measuring device (84,85,87,88), an adjusting device (75a,75b,71) which enlarges an interval between rollers (62,63) and correcting means (64). Yamagishi discloses (column 13, lines 55-65) that a control means calculates and actual circumferential length of the ring and actuates a cylinder (80) to move the correcting means. In column 14, lines 28-36 Yamagishi discloses that length correction is repeated as necessary. In column 14, lines 41-47 Yamagishi discloses a target circumferential length for the ring that is used as a reference value. In column 15, lines 34-55 Yamagishi discloses that a corrective value (ΔX) is added to the calculated distance (X) in order to reliably deform the ring to the target value.

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(a) the invention was known or used by others in this country, or patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country, before the invention thereof by the applicant for a patent.

Art Unit: 3725

Claims 1,2,5-8,11 and 12 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(a) as being anticipated by Narusaki et al. (WO 02/38302). Narusaki discloses a peripheral length adjusting apparatus for an endless metallic ring (W) comprising a peripheral length measuring device (24,25), an adjusting device (10,21,22) which enlarges an interval between rollers (2,3) and correcting means (4). A controller (31) controls the adjusting and correcting means to adjust a target peripheral length in view of the springback of the ring so that the ring is adjusted longer than the target length by a contraction amount.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 3,4,9 and 10 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

The prior art of record does not disclose volume and temperature measuring devices which change a rate of contraction based on the measured volume or temperature.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
